NEW YORK NATIONALS ENJOY ANOTHER BATTING FESTIVAL.

Third One-Sided Game in Succession at the Polo Grounds, Quakers Falling Easy Victims-St. Louis in Second Place -Brooklyns Win Again at the Hub.

While the New Yorks are sailing along serenely in the lead in the National League the other teams are changing about. While New York was beating Philadelphia yesterday, St. Louis was winning in Chicago, and St. Louis is now second, as Cincinnati lost to Pittsburg. Pittsburg advanced from seventh to fifth place, and Brooklyn by beating Boston moved into the first division. Chicago fell back into the second section. The re-

The New York Nationals had another riotous time with the bat yesterday, and the game at the Polo Grounds, like the other two with the Philadelphias, was very one sided The New Yorks began scoring at the drop of the hat, and cradled ten runs all told, ten times as many as the visitors amassed.

Another tremendously big uprising of en-thusiasts hemmed in the field of play, ready to whoop things up at a moment's notice, and the home team gave them numerous occasions to whoop Runs were plentiful and hits more so, and what loose fielding was, was counteracted by sharp fielding. Dahlen and Hulswitt between them made enough sensational plays to prove an antidate for their errors.

McGinnity held the Philadelphias safe all of the seven innings he pitched; Sparks, on the other hand, had nothing in his stock of slants that bothered the New Yorks. hitting alone would have given the New Yorks the game. The runs they got through errors

Gleason thumped McGinnity for a two-bagger in the first inning, but McGinnity made a good stop of Wolverton's hard grounder, threw Gleason out at third and spoiled a bright outlook. In New York's half of the innng Browne hit to left for two bases, Devlin sacrificed and Browne came in on McGann's fly to Thomas.

Hulswitt fumbled Dahlen's slow grounder in the second inning, and Bill stole second. ofibert singled to centre, scoring Dahlen. When Gilbert turned first base after his hit Gleason heaved the ball there to catch him. There must have been sheet iron in Hall's glove, for the ball bounded out of his hands and half way back to second base. Gilbert rushed to second on the misplay, stole third and scored on McGinnity's safety. A single by Browne, Devlin's bunt and Sparks's wild throw in fielding the bunt gave the home team a trip around in the fourth. The mighty McGrawites edified the chuck-ing thousands with a streak of batting in the With inning that was as skilful as it was destructive—a delightfully spontaneous out-burst of effective stickwork. Browne, most hed of bunters, laid the ball down the third base line, Devlin cracked a man's size single to left, and McGann filled the bases with a bunt that the bewildered Quakers could not handle.

With three on bases and nobody out, "Slamdow" Mertes transformed the expectant cranks into a vocal Mont Pelée by hitting between left and centre for three bases. Mertes scored on Dahlen's out at Hulswitt made a fine stop of an awkward grounder. Warner's single, McGinnity's sacrifice and Browne's fourth safe ick gave the New Yorks their run in the

The Philadelphias escaped a shut out solely because Dahlen and Devlin were at cross purposes on a little infield play. They let the ball fall to the ground when either could have caught it blindfolded. Doom's single and a wild throw by Devlin sent Hulswitt around. Then, on McCormick's must and a base on balls to Thomas, the bases were filled, with nobody out. The Quakers' best niled, with popoly out. The Quakers best hitters were up, but Gleason forced Doom at the plate. Wolverton erased himself from the plcture with a short fly to Mertes and Titus struck out. Whereat ensued a violent outbreak of homage to McGinnity by the Titus struck one cutbreak of homage to McGinnity by the emotional cranks.

Dahlen made a wonderful play in the third inning. Thomas was encamped at first base, when Gleason sent the bail crashing over second base. Dahlen jumped for the ball, batted it with his hand, then pounced on it and from his stooping position managed to toss it to Gilbert at second in time to force Thomas. Another fine play was Tatus's throw from deep right in the third inning, pailing Deviin at third base. The score:

NEW YORK (A. L.), 4: WASHINGTON, 3. WASHINGTON, April 23.- A nip and tuck struggle that held the interest of the spectators at a high tension until the last batter got out was won by the New Yorks in a splendid manner to-day. Sequential safe hitting and fine team work scored all of New York's runs and won them a hard earned contest entirely on their merits. Three hits were bunched twice, scoring three of the runs, and a three-bagger fol-lowed by a long fly scored the fourth tally. Conroy started the game with a single to right field and went to second on Fultz's single to left. Both moved up a base on Keeler's sacrifice. Conroy scored on Elberfeld's out and Fultz counted on Williams's slow bunt and Fultz counted on Williams's slow bunt to Cassidy.

Beville opened the eighth inning with a two bugger to deep left field and scored on singles by Conroy and Fultz. Keeler went out on a pop fly trying to bunt, and Elberseld was fooled on strikes. This run by Beville tied the score and Williams scored the winning run on Anderson's long fly to Seibach after batting the first ball pitched in the eighth inning for a three bagger over Thoney's head to the centre field fence.

A base on balls, a sacrifice hit and two scratch infield hits scored Washington's first run. Cassidy's triple, two errors by Conroy and Moran's single scored the other two runs that gave Washington a lead for five innings. But the visitors played a grand uphill game and won out by superior stick work.

CLEVELAND, April 23.—Comiskey's White Stockings won the second game of the series this afternoon. Doe White was hit hard and Cleveland should have won in a walk, but five errors tell the story of how the Napoleons net their Waterloo. The first three runs were due to misplays and erratic fielding. The Clevelands gave a great exhibition of batting in the first inning, when Bradley and Lajoie made home run drives. Donahue was only hit hard in one inning, the eighth. The fielding of Davis and J. Chicago scored over New York in the final for the first cup yesterday at the Country Club of Lakewood, for H. Charles Egan, the Western Golf Association champion of 1902 and Intercollegiate champion also of that year, defeated Findlay Douglas, the Metropolitan Golf Association champion, by 3 up and 2 to play, making the wind up of the first open tournament in the East as interesting a match as the season will furnish. It was

To reach the final, Egan had to dispose of George Brokaw in the morning, and the latter proved a worthy foeman until the closing holes. Egan won by 2 up and 1 to play. Setting out for the final there was a half in 5. Egan having the longer drive and brassie, but putting both. The spectacular feature was a mashie shot by Douglas, made with the full swing that is only learned at old St. Andrews, which made a recovery that gained the half. The second and third are iron shots to the greens over the babbling and ball-steal-ing brook. Douglas played the second hole nicely and should have had a 3, but Egan's tee shot was from the toe of the club and bounded off the island green. He was lucky to get a 4, at which figure the hole was halved. Too much strength sent Douglas's drive for the third so fast that it did not hold the green, Egan winning in a perfect 3 to 4.

Egan topped from the fourth tee and was in the bunker, Douglas driving a fine ball and getting the hole in 3 to 5. He ran up his mashie approach here and throughout the match, the favorite method with Travis and his imitators. Douglas has always been a foremost exponent of the pitched-up approach. The change helped Douglas, for except on the fifth and eighth he was never better on these shots, but his short puts were wretched, and too often spoiled the results

WILL FIGHT SUNDAY BALL. Storm of Protest Against McAdoo's

A storm of protests from Brooklyn ministers is promised to-day against the action of Police Commissioner McAdoo in ruling that Police Commissioner McAdoo in ruling that professional baseball games may be played in Brooklyn. The clergy of the borough across the Bridge, urged on by the Kings County Sunday Observance Association, began yesterday to shower protests in the form of letters on Commissioner McAdoo and to circulate patitions and may be McCled. circulate petitions calling on Mayor McClellan to stop Sunday bail playing.

The Rev. Dr. W. W. Bowdish of the Sixth Avenue Methodist Church was very emphatic yesterday in denunciation of the action of Commissioner McAdoo. "I think the state of the state o we are drifting into a too liberal construction of the laws regarding Sunday observance," he said.
The Rev. Dr. J. F. Farrar, pastor of the First Reformed Church, Seventh avenue and Carroll street, said: "The Commissioner's action is an unjust discrimination. Washington Park is not removed from the residential districts. It is near enough to the homes to draw all the children away from the Sunday schools of the Park Slope. The worst feature is that the subterfuge of selling programmes for admission is training our youth to be law breakers. Whenever we permit an infringement of the law we educate our children to have children see it and they learn to scorn the Nearly every minister in the borough re-

Nearly every minister in the borough received from the Kings County Sunday Observance Association yesterday copies of a petition which is to be sent to Mayor McCleilan. The ministers have been requested to circulate the petition at services to-day and get as many signatures as possible, with a view of presenting a monster petition the latter part of the week.

Two men, who said they were A. A. Robbins and James M. King, representing the Kings County Sunday Observance Association, went to Police Headquarters yesterday to try to convince Commissioner McAdoo that his decision to allow Sunday ball playing in Brooklyn was wrong morally and legally. The Commissioner at the time was busy entertaining Rear Admiral Rodgers, commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard, and so the two men made their protest to Secretary Howell.

They told Mr Howell that if Commissioner McAdoo permitted the game to be played on Sundays he might be indicted, and they quoted a decision of the Appellate Division upholding their cortention that Sunday sports could not be conducted legally. They also produced records showing that a chief of police in Buffalo was indicted in 1892 on the same grounds.

When Commissioner McAdoo reached his office the Brooklynites had gone. The secretary told him what had transpired. The Commissioner was indigman.

"I have made up my mind to countenance Sunday baseball in sparsely settled districts," he said, "and threats like this will only tend to make me more stubborn in carrying out my plans.

"There will be baseball in Brooklyn to-my plans.

"There will be baseball in Brooklyn to-morrow, but the law will be observed."

by the outbreak moved back into their seats as if nothing and happened.

The high interest for the day centred in those events which brought together the contestants from the crack colleges of the East and West. The most important of these was the four mile relay race. In that contest Michigan met Yale, Princeton, Co-lumbia, Harvard and Pennsylvania. Michigan was the winner, N. Kellogg beating Parsons of Yale by 10 feet, without worrying much about it. At the beginning of the hast relay Kelloge had a lead of 20 feet over much about it. At the beginning of the last relay kellogy had a lead of 20 feet over Parsons. The Michigan man made no attempt to maintain that lead but allowed Parsons to get almost on even terms with him. Parsons took matters easily and allowed Williams of Princeton and Taylor of Columbia to catch up with them. Kellogg ran a pretty race. He was always Parsons's master, making the Yale man either trail him or run on the outer edge.

In rounding the upper turn on the last lap it was a sprint for the tape. Kellogg and Parsons quickly pulled away from the others. Straightening out for home Kellogg began to open up a gap between himself and Parsons, which he held at about twenty feet with ease until the tape was reached. Yale was fifty feet mbead of Princeton and the Tigers beat Columbia by about a yard. Harvard and Pennsylvania were also rans. The time was 18 minutes 52 3-5 seconds. Pennsylvania holds the record for the race, 18 minutes 22 1-5 seconds.
